

DOG POLICY

Wetherspoon's policy is that animals are not allowed in its pubs, hotels, gardens, car parks or on other external areas. The exceptions to the policy are trained guide dogs and also assistance dogs with Assistance Dogs UK-accredited training.

Assistance Dogs UK (ADUK) works with organisations which provide training for assistance dogs and is accredited by Assistance Dogs International or the International Guide Dogs Federation.

Wetherspoon does not allow emotional support dogs or any other animals in our pubs, hotels, gardens, car parks or on other external areas.

Reason

Wetherspoon's pubs are busy, with families and children present, and serve a lot of food. Dogs can sometimes behave unpredictably – and some customers may be frightened of, or allergic to, them. In addition, many customers do not like having dogs around when eating.
